"From Womb to Tomb" The Quality of Life of a South-East Asia

"The Quality of Life of a Southeast Asian", also known as "From womb to tomb", is probably one of the best known pieces of writing of Dr. Puey Ungphakorn. In a simple, yet effective and moving way, he lays down the conditions for a good life that any decent human society should strive to achieve for its members.

ECONOMICS

What is it?

What is economics?

Economics is related to Money only!

Economics is nothing but profit or losses!

Is economics really for living?

Economics is for whom?

- Fundamental Economics Concepts:
  - 1. Unlimited want
  - 2. Scarcity
  - 3. Opportunity Cost

Economists study how people make decisions:

- How much do they work?
- What do they buy?
- How much do they save?
- How much do they invest their saving?
- etc.

Why should we integrate economics to better living?

What is your breakfast?

Nonsi is a first-year student who has studied in "Economics for Better Living " After the first period, it's time for Nonsi's breakfast. With a limited budget and concerning about her health, Nonsi's meal for today is boiled rice with fish and orange juice without adding sugar.

The reason why we should integrate economics to better living

1. Economic purpose is synchronous with human purpose: to improve the quality of daily life.
2. Economics is sciences for serving human being: to live happily and peacefully.
3. Economics is product of human thought with social responsibility: healing the human race.

ECONOMICS

Positive Economics

(What is it?)

Something that hasn't to be true but it's something that can be tested.

EX: Healthcare services cause budget deficit.

Normative Economics

(What it should be?)

Something that someone thinks "How the world should be"

EX: Poor people should have access to vaccine covid-19 with free of charge.

Which statement is positive/normative economics?

1. Paying people who aren't working, even though they could work, is wrong and unfair.
2. Programs like welfare reduce the incentive for people to work.
3. Raising taxes on the wealthy to pay government programs grows the economy.
4. The government should increase taxes on the rich in order to help the poorest in society.
5. Raising taxes on the wealthy slows economy growth.
